

From the IAIDQ President

Happy New Year and welcome to the first official IAIDQ Newsletter!

We are very proud to bring you the exclusive articles contained in this newsletter. They have been written by some of the industry's leading experts. This is a great example of one of the benefits extended to you as an IAIDQ member.

On the subject of benefits, I am excited to tell you about the conference we are planning for September this year in Houston, Texas. We are partnering with Information Impact International to bring you The 17th Information Quality Conference which will be an official conference of the IAIDQ. This joint effort will bring more depth and breadth to the conference than ever before. Included at the conference will be an official IAIDQ meeting and breakout meetings for official IAIDQ business. Please mark your calendars for the conference dates of September 19-23, 2005. There will be a discount for IAIDQ members so I look forward to seeing you at the Information Quality Conference!

I would like to thank all of you for your continued support of the IAIDQ. The board, advisors, and I are working hard to build strong and solid foundations for an association that will last, will add value to you, its members, and will be recognized as the premiere association for Information and Data Quality Professionals across the globe.
